

Methocarbamol is indicated as adjunctive therapy of acute inflammatory and traumatic conditions of the skeletal muscle and to reduce muscular spasms in dogs and cats. In horses, intravenous use is indicated as adjunctive therapy of acute inflammatory and traumatic conditions of the skeletal muscle to reduce muscular spasms, and effect striated muscle relaxation. See detailed product information on Robaxin-V for complete description.